Program Objective

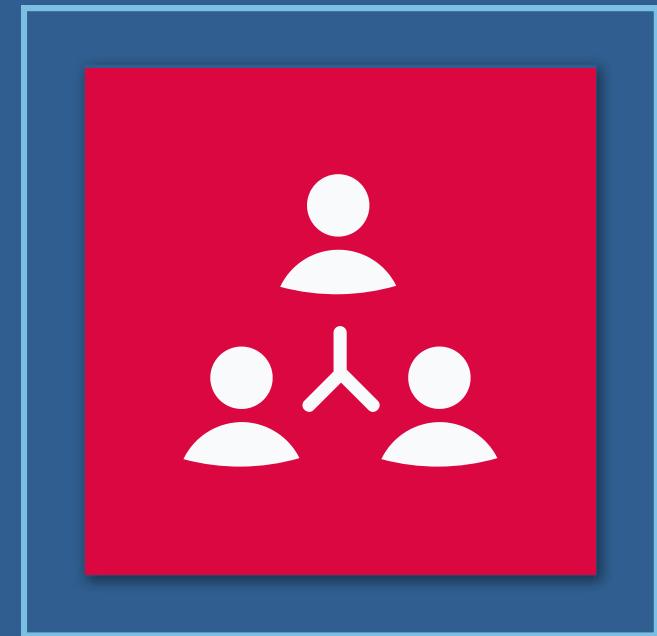

"The Fellow's Corner" is an initiative of the PROEDUCAR area, specially designed for interventional cardiologists in training who reside in Latin America. This initiative aims to create a space for exchange where participants can share their clinical experiences and raise questions related to cases of interest in the field of cardiovascular intervention.

Through this project, collaborative learning is encouraged, allowing fellows to benefit from the experiences of their peers while receiving insights and guidance from professionals with extensive expertise and experience in different areas of interventional cardiology.

Cases submitted by participants will be published on SOLACI's official website (www.solaci.org) and shared across institutional social media channels, thereby expanding the reach and visibility of contributions made by professionals in training. The cases generating the greatest debate will be presented during virtual meetings organized by PROEDUCAR.

Participation Requirements

The call is open to all professionals interested in sharing clinical cases they consider relevant or useful for discussion and collective learning.

Participation has no restrictions and is completely free of charge, allowing anyone who wishes to contribute to do so without limitations.

It is important to note that being a fellow is not a mandatory requirement to submit a clinical case; any professional who believes their contribution may be interesting or educational is invited to participate in this initiative.
